The provisions of article 27(4) with respect to tax returns shall apply mutatis mutandis to the delivery of the said form.

to be raised under this Act in replacement of the provisional assessment so cancelled which shall be deemed not to have been raised.

Such fresh provisional assessment has to be raised within the time limit specified in subarticle (1).

33. (1) When the Commissioner has reason to believe that a person has become liable to an administrative penalty with respect to anything made by him during any period in which he was registered under article 11 he may make an assessment of that penalty and serve that assessment on that person within six years from the end of that period.

35. The power to make an assessment includes the power to make an additional or a revised assessment within the same time limits and subject to the same provisions applicable to an original assessment: provided that the Commissioner may not reopen any matter that has been decided on appeal.

Additional and revised assessments.

36. Where an assessment is made on any person any amount of tax, deductions or administrative penalty assessed in that assessment shall, except if and to the extent that the assessment is cancelled or revised, be deemed for any of the purposes of this Act to be and to have always been the tax, the deductions and the administrative penalty properly due and allowable with respect to the tax period or the transactions to which that assessment refers.

L.N. 29 of 1999.
Substituted by:
X. 2003.47.
Amended by:
L.N. 122 of 2007;
L.N. 426 of 2007;
L.N. 105 of 2008;
L.N. 137 of 2009.

Threshold at the time of application

1. (1) Subject to paragraph (2), the economic activity of a person who applies for registration under article 11 qualifies as a small undertaking at the time of the application if his turnover for the relevant period is less than the Entry Threshold.

(2) When a taxable person applies for registration under article 11 at the commencement of his economic activity or within thirty days therefrom his economic activity qualifies as a small undertaking at the time of the application and continues to qualify as a small undertaking up to the end of the calendar quarter following that during which he commenced his economic activity if the Commissioner is satisfied that the turnover of that person for the period of twelve months commencing on the date of the commencement of that economic activity will not exceed the Entry Threshold.

Persons registered under article 10

2. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of item 1, the economic activity of a person registered under article 10 does not qualify as a small undertaking at any time during the first thirty-six full calendar months from the date of the said registration:

Provided that a person who is treated as registered under article 10 in virtue of subarticle (6) of the said article of this Act shall be treated for the purpose of this item as having been registered under that article on the date on which he was first registered under this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the provisions of paragraph (1) of this item, the economic activity of a person registered under article 10 does not qualify as a small undertaking if the turnover of that person for the relevant period exceeds the Exit Threshold.

Threshold of persons registered under article 11

3. The economic activity of a person registered under article 11 continues to qualify as a small undertaking as long as the turnover of that person for the relevant period does not exceed the Entry Threshold.

4. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this item, the turnover of a person for the purposes of this Part is the total taxable value of all supplies made by that person in the course or furtherance of his economic activity during the relevant period, excluding:

- (a) exempt without credit supplies;
- (b) a transfer of a business as a going concern;
- (c) transactions which are treated under this Act as supplies made by a person to himself;
- (d) the sale or disposal of fixed assets.

(2) Without prejudice to paragraph (1) of this item, where a person registered under article 11 provides both goods and services, the applicable threshold shall be determined in accordance with the principal nature of the supply, taking account of the total value of all the supplies.

(3) When it appears to the Commissioner that the turnover for the relevant period has been negatively affected by specific extraordinary circumstances, including the temporary suspension of the economic activity, the turnover will be the amount obtained after such adjustment as the Commissioner might deem appropriate in the circumstances.

(4) In the case of a company established in Malta that forms part of a group of companies the turnover shall be deemed to be the total of the amounts of the turnover of all companies established in Malta that form part of that group. In this paragraph "group of companies" means two or more companies which are controlled by the same person, and for the purpose of this definition a person shall be deemed to control a company if he owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the shares or the voting rights of that company or of another company which controls, within the said meaning, that company.

Relevant period

5. (1) For the purposes of this Part, and subject to paragraph (2), the relevant period on any particular date is a period of twelve months ending on the last day of the calendar quarter preceding that in which that particular date falls.

(2) Where the first day of the twelve-month period referred to in paragraph (1) determined on a particular date precedes the date of the commencement of the economic activity, the relevant period on that particular date is a period commencing on the first day of the calendar quarter following that during which the economic activity was commenced and ending on the last day of the calendar quarter preceding that in which that particular date falls.

Calendar quarter

6. For the purposes of this Part, "calendar quarter" is a period of three calendar months ending on the 31 March, the 30 June, the 30 September and the 31 December, as the case may be.

Provided that the Entry or the Exit Threshold for a relevant period of less than twelve months determined in accordance with paragraph (2) of item 5 is a proportion of the relative threshold calculated by dividing that threshold by four and multiplying the result by the number of calendar quarters included in the relevant period so determined.

Information to be given to the Commissioner

8. A person who applies for registration under article 11 shall give all information that the Commissioner may reasonably request for the purpose of applying the provisions of this Part.

SEVENTH SCHEDULE

[Article 18]

Taxable value

Substituted by:
X. 2003.47.
Amended by:
L.N. 335 of 2008;
L.N. 420 of 2012.

Taxable value of supplies

1. Except as otherwise provided in the other provisions of this Schedule, the taxable value of a supply shall be the total value of the consideration paid or payable to the supplier by the purchaser, the customer or any other person for the supply, including any subsidy directly linked to the provision of that supply, but excluding the value added tax chargeable under this Act on that supply.

2. The taxable value of a supply shall include, insofar as they are not included in the value determined under item 1:

- (a) taxes, duties, levies, fees and other charges (excluding the value added tax chargeable under this Act) payable by reason of the supply;
- (b) incidental expenses, such as commissions, packing, transport and insurance costs charged by the supplier to the purchaser or customer even if they are covered by a separate agreement or a separate document.

3. The taxable value of a supply shall not include:

- (a) price reductions by way of discounts for early payment;
- (b) rebates and other price reductions allowed directly by the supplier to the customer and accounted for at the time when the tax becomes chargeable;
- (c) penalties and interests charged for late payment after the time of the supply;
- (d) disbursements paid in the name and for the account of the person to whom the supply is made, and resulting from documents held by the supplier to have been so paid, which are entered in the records of the supplier in a suspense account;
- (e) any amount charged to the customer by way of a deposit on returnable packing of goods where the deposit is lower than the cost of the packing.

4. When, after a supply takes place -

- (a) the consideration for that supply is reduced by way of a price discount or rebate allowed to the customer for bona fide commercial reasons;
- (b) the consideration for that supply is not payable or is repayable to the customer on account of the rescission of the contract for that supply which is declared by means of a definitive judgment or arbitration award or is agreed to by the parties in writing on grounds that would have been sufficient in a court of law for that rescission;
- (c) the amount due as consideration for that supply becomes a bad debt, the taxable value of that supply shall be reduced accordingly: provided that no adjustment shall be made to the tax chargeable on that supply by reason of such a reduction except in the manner provided in the Tenth Schedule.

5. (1) When the consideration is paid or payable wholly or partly in kind or where the value of the consideration for a supply cannot be readily determined, the taxable value of that supply shall be, to the extent that the consideration is so paid or cannot be so determined, its open market value.

(2) The open market value of goods or services means the price which they would fetch if sold or provided in the open market on the date and in the state they were in when the said goods are delivered or the said services are performed.

6. (1) The taxable value of a supply consisting of the application or disposal of goods for which no consideration is charged or paid but which is deemed in terms of the Second Schedule to be a supply of goods made for consideration, and the taxable value of a transport of goods that is treated as a supply in terms of item 17 of the Second Schedule (Transfer of goods to another Member State), is the purchase price of those or similar goods or, in the absence of a purchase price, the cost price, determined at the time of the supply.

(2) The taxable value of a self-supply of services is the full cost to the person making the supply of providing those services.

7. The taxable value of a supply consisting in the transfer of goods by order made by or in the name of a public authority or in pursuance of the law against payment of compensation is the compensation for that transfer.

8. (1) Where the factors used to determine the taxable amount on importation are expressed in a currency other than in Euro, the exchange rate shall be determined in accordance with the Community provisions governing the calculation of the value for customs purposes.

(2) Where the factors used to determine the taxable amount of a transaction other than the importation of goods are expressed in a currency other than in Euro, the exchange rate applicable shall be the latest selling rate recorded, at the time the tax becomes chargeable, applied by commercial banks in Malta.

(3) The use of the latest exchange rate published by the European Central Bank at the time the tax becomes chargeable shall also be accepted. Conversion between currencies other than the Euro shall be made by using the Euro exchange rate of each currency.

Taxable value of intra-community acquisitions

9. The taxable value of a taxable intra-community acquisition is the amount which would represent the taxable value in terms of this Schedule of the supply pursuant to which that acquisition is made if that supply were a taxable supply, and shall include any excise duty paid or payable in a Member State by the person making that acquisition on the goods acquired.

10. (1) When the taxable value of an intra-community acquisition includes excise tax paid or payable in a Member State other than Malta and the person who makes the acquisition qualifies for a refund of that excise tax, the value of that acquisition shall be reduced proportionately.

(2) When an intra-community acquisition is treated as taking place in Malta by reason of the fact that it was made by a person identified for the purpose of that acquisition by a value added tax identification number issued by the Commissioner and is subsequently also treated as taking place and subject to tax in another Member State by reason of the fact that the transport of the goods ends in that State, the chargeable value of that acquisition under this Act shall be reduced by the amount subject to tax in that other Member State.

(3) When the value of a supply pursuant to which an intra-community acquisition is made is reduced after that acquisition takes place for any of the reasons mentioned in item 4 the taxable value of the acquisition shall be reduced accordingly.

(4) When the taxable value of an intra-community acquisition is reduced in any of the circumstances mentioned in this item, the tax on that acquisition corresponding to that reduction shall, if paid, be treated as tax paid but not due for the purposes of article 69 of this Act.

Taxable value of importations

11. Subject to the other provisions of this Schedule, the taxable value of an importation of goods shall be the value established in terms of the Import Duties Act for the determination of the value on which duty ad valorem is chargeable under that Act, and all the relevant provisions of that Act shall apply mutatis mutandis, and for the purpose of this item the references in the said provisions to the Comptroller of Customs shall be construed as references to the Comptroller of Customs acting on behalf of the Commissioner.

12. The value established under item 11 shall be increased, insofar as they are not included in the value determined in accordance with item 11, by:

- (a) any taxes, levies, duties and other charges due outside Malta, any import duties chargeable on the said importation under the Local Manufactures (Promotion) Act, any excise duty payable under the Excise Duty Act by reason of the importation of those goods;
- (b) incidental expenses, such as commissions, packing, customs agency costs and transport and insurance costs incurred up to the delivery of the goods to the destination in Malta indicated on the document by means of which the goods are imported or, in the absence of such an indication, the place of the first transfer of the goods in Malta;
- (c) costs for the transport of the goods to another destination within the Community if that destination is known at the time of the importation.

13. The taxable value of an importation shall not include:

- (a) rebates and other price reductions allowed directly by the supplier to the customer and accounted for at the time of the importation;
 - (b) price reductions by way of discount for early payment.

3. (1) Subject to paragraph (2) of this item, no amount shall be treated as input tax of a person to the extent to which it represents tax chargeable on:

 - (ii) alcoholic beverages;
 - (iii) works of art, collectors' items and antiques;

- (f) vessels or aircraft used for the carriage of goods or personnel in the course of an economic activity or where the use of such vessels or aircraft constitutes a specific and essential element for the performance of the economic activity which would otherwise give rise to a right of deduction in terms of article 22.

(3) In this item, "works of art, collectors items and antiques" shall have the meaning assigned to it by Part B of the Fourteenth Schedule.

(4) Tax paid or payable on any supply to or on any intra-community acquisition or importation by a person in the name and for the account of another person in respect of disbursements that, in terms of the Seventh Schedule, do not form part of the taxable value of supplies made to that other person shall not be treated as input tax of the first mentioned person.

Tax partially treated as input tax

4. (1) Where any goods or services are or will be used but not wholly used in the course or furtherance of an economic activity, there shall be treated as input tax such proportion of the tax chargeable on the supplies, intra-community acquisitions or importations in question, taking into account the proportion of the use of those goods or services in the course or furtherance of the economic activity to their total use.

(2) In the case of immovable property forming part of the business assets of a taxable person and used both for purposes of the taxable person's business and for his private use or that of his staff, or, more generally, for purposes other than those of his business, VAT on expenditure related to this property shall be deductible in accordance with the principles set out in this Schedule only up to the proportion of the property's use for purposes of the taxable person's business which give him the right to deduct.

By way of derogation from item 15 of the Second Schedule, changes in the proportion of use of immovable property referred to in paragraph (1) shall be taken into account in accordance with the principles provided for in item 7 of this Schedule.

(3) The provisions of paragraph (2) shall also apply in relation to VAT on expenditure related to capital goods other than immovable property forming part of the business assets of a taxable person.

For the purpose of this paragraph "capital goods" shall have the meaning assigned to it in the Value Added Tax (Adjustments relating to Input Tax on Capital Goods) Regulations (S.L.406.12).

Attribution of input tax

5. (1) Any input tax of a person registered under article 10 for a tax period which is exclusively attributable to supplies to which article 22(4) applies shall be allowed as a credit for that period.

(2) Any input tax which is exclusively attributable to supplies other than those referred to in paragraph (1) shall not be allowed as a credit.

(3) Any input tax for a tax period which is attributable both to supplies to which article 22(4) applies and also to other supplies shall be partially allowed as a credit for that tax period, which portion shall be determined in accordance with item 6 or 8.

Partial attribution

6. (1) The portion of input tax allowable as a credit to a person in terms of item 5(3) shall be calculated as follows:

- (a) the total value of supplies to which article 22(4) applies made by that person during all the tax periods ending during a calendar year is divided by the total value of supplies made by that person during those tax periods;
- (b) the result obtained under paragraph (a) shall be the definitive ratio for the year referred to in that paragraph and the provisional ratio for the following year;
- (c) the input tax credit of that person for each tax period ending during a calendar year shall be calculated provisionally by multiplying the value of the input tax of that person for that tax period by the provisional ratio for that year;
- (d) the total input tax credit of that person for all the tax periods ending during a calendar year shall be calculated definitively by multiplying the total input tax for those periods by the definitive ratio for that year;
- (e) the difference between the total input tax for the tax periods ending during a year calculated provisionally under paragraph (c) and the definitive calculation for that year under paragraph (d) shall represent tax due by that person or a deduction allowable to that person, as the case may be, which tax or deduction shall be accounted for in the tax return for the first tax period that ends in the year following that for which the provisional calculation was made: provided that the tax or deduction in respect of a year during which the registration of a person under article 10 is cancelled shall be accounted for in his last tax period.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1):

- (a) the value of supplies not subject to tax under this Act shall be determined in the manner applicable for the determination of the taxable value of taxable supplies;
- (b) there shall be excluded from the value of the supplies made by that person -
 - (i) the value of any supply of capital goods used in his economic activity;
 - (ii) the value of self-supplies;
 - (iii) the value of any supply which is not made by a taxable person acting as such.

Adjustment relating to input tax on the acquisition of capital goods

7. (1) Where the input tax credit of a person ("the owner") for any tax period during a calendar year ("the year of acquisition") includes tax on the supply to that person or the intra-community acquisition or importation by that person of capital goods, an adjustment should be made to the input tax already allowed, if the input tax for any year during an adjustment period is allowable at a rate which is higher or lower than that already allowed in the year of acquisition.

- (2) The Minister may by regulations:
- (a) define the capital goods to which this item applies;
 - (b) define the period or periods of adjustment applicable to capital goods;
 - (c) prescribe the method in which the adjustment shall be calculated and the manner in which it shall be effected.

Alternative methods of partial attribution

8. Where it appears that the method of attributing input tax laid down in item 6 does not give a fair and reasonable result, the Commissioner may by notice in writing to a registered person direct that the said method shall not apply to the attribution of input tax to the supplies of that person and where such a direction has been given, that person shall adopt such other method of partial attribution as the Minister may by regulations prescribe.

Rounding up

9. (1) A fraction resulting from any computation made in accordance with this Schedule shall be rounded up to the nearest euro.

(2) Where the amount of input tax which results to be not allowable as a credit for a tax period pursuant to an apportionment made in accordance with items 6 or 8 is less than €20 multiplied by the number of months or part thereof included in that tax period that amount shall, notwithstanding the said provisions, be treated as allowable as a credit for input tax.

Bad debt relief

10. (1) Where a person registered under article 10 of this Act shows to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that an amount due to him as consideration for a supply made to another person has, during a tax period, become a bad debt and that output tax has been paid or is payable by the said person in respect of that supply, that person may claim the amount of the output tax corresponding to the bad debt to be allowed as a deduction by way of a bad debt relief in addition to any other deduction allowable to him as an input tax credit in accordance with the other provisions of this Schedule for that tax period or for such subsequent tax period as the Commissioner may allow.

(2) A claim for a deduction by way of a bad debt relief shall be subject to such directives as the Commissioner may give as to the circumstances in which it may be made and the documents or other evidence that should be produced.

(3) The recovery of a bad debt in respect of which a deduction has been allowed in terms of this item or of a part of such a debt shall, to the extent of the amount recovered, be treated as a taxable supply taking place at the time when the said debt or part thereof is recovered and shall be accounted for accordingly by the person to whom the deduction had been so allowed.

Deductions on account of a reduction in the taxable value of supplies or intra-community acquisitions

11. (1) Where, in terms of the Seventh Schedule, the taxable value of a supply or an intra-community acquisition is reduced after that supply or acquisition takes place any output tax corresponding to that reduction shall be allowable as a deduction to the person by whom that output tax was paid or is payable for the tax period during which the cause for the reduction occurs.

(2) The deduction allowable under this item is subject to the condition that the person claiming it has properly accounted for the output tax on the taxable value in question before the reduction.

(3) A claim for a deduction under this item shall be subject to such directives as the Commissioner may give as to the documents or other evidence that should be produced.

Saving provision

12. The provisions of this Schedule are without prejudice to the provisions of the Fourteenth Schedule and, in particular, to the limitations provided for in that Schedule to the right of input tax credit allowable in the case of supplies subject to a margin scheme.

Input tax on supplies under cash accounting

13. Where a tax invoice indicates the words "Cash Accounting", the right of deduction of input tax, if applicable, shall arise when the payment of the tax is made to the supplier.
